

Friday 7th November

On our first day back to school, we played 'Escape Room' maths for some team building. One task was creating animal shapes using tangram puzzles.

All week we have been listening To rock artists who play piano. Today we'll vote to see which was our favourite. One of them was by Elton John.

The Year 6 pupils have been selling poppies.

We spun plates to demonstrate why early explorers thought the world was flat.

On Thursday we measured out the dimensions of Captain Cook's ship 'Endeavour'. We all agreed that conditions must have been cramped!

We began Our new book. It's also about exploring!

This week, Badgers have been exploring the story 'Owl Babies' and have described the setting using adjectives and expanded noun phrases.

The forest is scary and dangerous.
- Poppy

The rusty trees are spiky and dark.
- Dusty

The tall, electric trees are scary. The old, horrible leaves fell off of the tree.
- Ted

The sky is foggy. The forest is so creepy.
- Thomas

Wednesday 5th November 2025 (11)
LO: I can describe a setting using adjectives / expanded noun phrases.

The trees are tall and scary. I can see that the ground is hard and muddy. The trees are rusty and tall. The forest is scary and dangerous. The forest is dark and gloomy. The forest is foggy and scary and the sky is so foggy.

Wednesday 5th November 2025
LO: I can describe a setting using adjectives / expanded noun phrases.

The rusty trees are ^{sp}spiky and dark brown. The ground is hard and scary and cold. The sky is... foggy and dark. All the trees are moving and the trees are all tall and spiky. The whole part of the woods is ^{grey}dark and terrifying. All the ground is dark. The woods is petrifying. The scary trees are ^{leaf less}leafless.

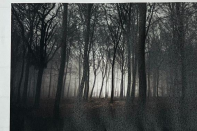

Wednesday 5th November 2025 (11)
LO: I can describe a setting using adjectives / expanded noun phrases.

Fantastic writing Ted! 😊

The foggy night is scary. The tall electric trees are scary. The old horrible leaves fell off the tree. The scary dark ground is very hard. The strange wire hanging from the trees is empty. h h h h h h h h h h a a a a a a a a a a

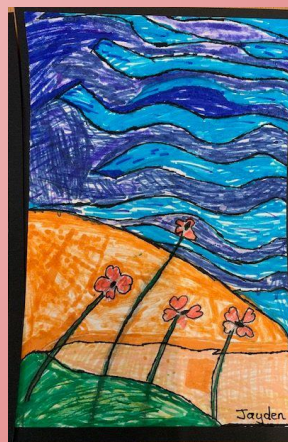

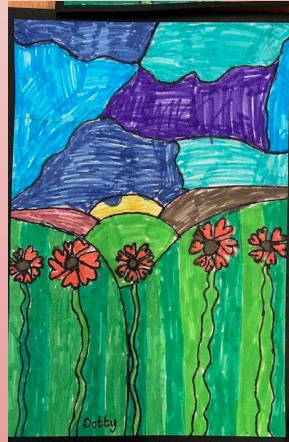

Wednesday 5th November 2025 (11)
LO: I can describe a setting using adjectives / expanded noun phrases.

The trees are scary. The trees are tall. The ~~leaves~~ ^{branches} are ~~spiky~~ ^{scary}. The floor is hard. The forest is scary. The forest is creepy. The forest is so creepy. The ~~leaves~~ ^{branches} are ~~dark~~ ^{scary}. The sky is foggy. The ground is so foggy.

Squirrels did such a good job of their poppy art in readiness for Remembrance next week. These look really super displayed in the windows at St.Giles. Well done everyone!

This week, Hedgehogs have spent time making their own firework pictures for the class window and discussed fire safety. Then at Wiggery Wood, they had their first fire at forest school and toasted our marshmallows to make S'mores! Thank you Terry, they were delicious!

